Blizzard Sweeping Eastern States

FEAR COAL SHORTAGE IN N. Y.

Storm Spreads Over Wide Area; Halts Wire and Rail Service

HEALTH OFFICIALS FEAR FLU REVIVAL

Snowfall Ranges from Five to Seven Inches In Many Cities

(By United Press Leased Wire)

The east, buried beneath the most widespread heavy snowfall of the winter, faced serious transportation delays and another serious coal shortage today, and New York health authorities feared a revival of the "flu" epidemic.

Snow which fell uninterruptedly in New York and vicinity for nearly twenty-four hours caused one death and several injuries, tied up New York harbor and generally disrupted communications.

The storm was compared to the blizzard of 1888.

New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other Atlantic seaboard states felt the full force of the storm, snowfalls ranging from five to seven inches over a wide area. Richmond and Norfolk were cut off from communication from the north.

The snowfall interfered with coal mining in Pennsylvania, while New York and New England physicians warned against recurrence of the influenza epidemic.

ICE HALTS STREET CAR TRAFFIC IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, March 7.—A blizzard of intensity that recalled the storm of 1888 swept New York and adjacent states today.

Snowfall early today totaled five inches or more and was so dense as to obscure visibility for more than a few feet. Street car traffic became so icy that this kind of traffic was demoralized. Vehicle travel through the city's streets was extremely difficult.

Three persons were dead, one dead and several injured as a result of slippery streets and traffic accidents.

Snow fell all day yesterday, turning to sleet in the afternoon. The storm continued with increased fury today. The weather bureau predicts that it will continue for at least another 24 hours.

BOSTON REPORTS STORM WORST IN YEARS

BOSTON, March 7.—One of the worst snowstorms in years lashed New England last night and today, bringing a fall of more than six inches of snow in twelve hours. The storm swept out of the northeast on the wings of a fifty mile an hour gale that drifted the snow on railroad tracks and highways to a depth of several feet.

ALTOONA REPORTS HEAVY FALL OF SNOW

ALTOONA, Pa., March 7.—Steam and electric railroads here are badly crippled today because of the worst snowstorm of the winter. With about eight inches of snow and sleet, it is still falling today and drifting badly.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 7.—A five inch blanket of snow covered Philadelphia today, demoralizing trolley and vehicle traffic.

An examination for the position of carrier clerk in the Santa Ana post office will be held here April 14, according to an announcement made today by L. F. Harvey, local secretary of the Board of United States Civil Service Examiners.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States between the ages of 18 and 45 years on the date of the examination, Harvey said.

The discussion of the Nebraska situation will be continued in tomorrow's dispatch.

WIND CAUSES DAMAGE

ATLANTA, Ga., March 7.—A high wind storm which swept Georgia last night caused property damage amounting to thousands of dollars it was estimated today.

Two White Women In Legal Fight Over $17,000 Left by Negro

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Two white women today were arrayed in legal battle over the estate of Robert S. Lee, negro.

Lee, who died a short time ago, leaving $17,000, named Kitty Pooty Johnson of San Francisco, as heir to the greater part of his property.

Today, C. N. Douglas, attorney, representing Mrs. J. V. Wynn of Boston, wife of a grocer, filed a petition contesting the will and claiming that Mrs. Wynn, although white skinned, fair haired and blue eyed, is the legally adopted daughter of the old negro porter.

The petition gave no details but Douglas declared that if brought to trial he is prepared to offer evidence to support his contentions.

KILLS WIFE IN ROW OVER SEPARATION

Los Angeles Man Captured by Police After Wife Found Dying in Rooming House.

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Carl Miller, mechanic, this morning shot and killed his wife, Catherine, 26, after a dispute, according to the police, who placed a murder charge against Miller following his arrest.

Miller and his wife had been separated for six months. Miller had tried to effect a reconciliation several times and had failed, it was said. This morning he went to the rooming house where his wife was staying, and asked to see her. They went into the parlor together. A quarrel ensued, and a shot rang out. Roomers rushed in to find Mrs. Miller shot and lying dying on the floor. She said her husband had shot her.

Miller ran out of the house but was captured after a short chase by police.

GOLFERS READY TO TAKE OVER NEW SITE

"The Santa Ana Country club" will be the name of the golf club authorized at a recent meeting of members, it became known today following a meeting of the board of directors of the Orange County Club held last night at the home of Secretary George Shattuck, 202 East Ninth street.

Shattuck today notified William McCoy, of the firm of Bradford and Ryan and McCoy, that the holding company for purchase of grounds from the firm had been organized and was ready to accept the offer of the firm. The price of the site, approximately 150 acres, will be around $75,000.

Application will be made in the near future for a charter for the Santa Ana Country club, and following its receipt a campaign will be organized for development of a strong membership.

The first step in development of the new site will be a survey of the grounds to determine exactly how many acres will be required to establish the size and character of course proposed by the new club.

Shattuck said that the old club will continue to function until expiration of the lease on the present grounds. Until that time dues will continue as they are. Those holding membership in the new organization will not be required to pay double dues, as the new club will not come into official existence until the new grounds are ready for play.

The board of directors of the old club were made temporary members of the board of the new club for the purpose of carrying out the plans of the new organization.

MOTORIST FINED $30 AFTER POLICE CHASE

A. Lewin, arrested yesterday after officers had pursued him for about one-half mile and had fired several shots at the tires of his car, was today assessed $30 by Justice J. B. Cox.

Lewin cut in on several cars near the end of North Main street. Deputies G. E. McClellan and Herman Zabel, following in a police car, overtook him.

As Zabel was questioning him, Lewin was said to have started his car suddenly, throwing the officer to one side. When he was again captured, he was near the county hospital.

POSTPONE DEATH TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—The trial of Lillian Bros, who shot her husband at San Pedro over two months ago was postponed today by Judge J. W. Shenk who is trying 22 L. W. W.'s. No new trial date was set.

IRISH REBELS IN BOMB OUTRAGE AIRSHIPS TO SEEK POLES FOR U. S.

Naval Authority Reveals American Plan for New Air Conquests

NEW YORK, March 7.—A conquest of the air that includes flights around the world and to the North and South Poles is planned by the United States

The flights will be attempted with the navy dirigible ZR-1, a monster airship now under construction at Philadelphia and Lakehurst, N. J., Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of the naval aeronautics declared in a speech through a wireless broadcasting station here last night.

The dirigible, the first of its kind to be built by the navy will be completed about July 1 and will also be sent on long trips throughout the United States, Moffett said, adding that a sister cruiser of the air, ZR-3, is being built in Germany for the American navy.

The two ships, it was declared, comprise the most improved factors known to air science.

GERMANS RUSH WORK ON BIG AMERICAN AIRSHIP

BERLIN, March 7.—Finishing touches to the Zeppelin ZR-3 with which a non-stop flight from Berlin to Chicago is planned, are expected to be made within a few days. The first trial trip of the giant air liner, now under construction at the Daimler-Benz works in south Germany, will take place on May 1, when a flight over the Alps will be attempted.

The ZR-3 will be manned by a German crew on the trans-Atlantic flight, but will fly the American flag. Permission to cross the fields of France was obtained only after assurances that the Zeppelin is owned by the United States and will fly the Stars and Stripes.

Plan Airplane Flight

The work on the big Zeppelin is progressing rapidly under the supervision of an American inspection commission, recently arrived in this country. After the trans-Alpine flight on May 1, the ZR-3 will be brought to Berlin. There, following a ceremonial inspection by American Ambassador Houghton, German pilots will turn the nose of the liner toward Chicago.

Members of the American commission plan to make the trip as guests.

The ZR-3 will be turned over to the American government in Chicago where preparations for its reception next autumn are now being made.

SUSPECT CLARA IS IN HIDING IN S. F.

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Frank Dewar, Los Angeles deputy sheriff sent here to run down clues in the search for Clara Phillips, escaped "hammer murderer," today expressed a belief that it is even possible that Mrs. Phillips herself is in hiding in the vicinity of San Francisco.

He expressed that opinion after investigation of various angles of the case. He is working on information that a woman, answering Mrs. Phillips' description, came here on a small coastwise vessel which had previously visited Mexican ports and San Pedro, Calif.

"She was met by a man who is here in San Francisco," he said, "and quietly escorted away from the vessel when it landed."

"This man, I have reason to believe, may have been the person who made all arrangements for the protection of Mrs. Phillips by underworld characters when she broke from the jail."

POSTPONE DEATH TRIAL

BOOTLEGGER MURDER 2 IN LIQUOR RAID

Bodies of Officers Found Buried Near Scene of Crime; Two Suspects Held.

FRANKLIN, La., March 7.—The bodies of Deputy Sheriffs Wesley Grain and Wiley Pierce were found by searchers today buried in the mud of a creek here. The bodies were found near a still which the officers had planned to raid, according to Deputy R. H. Bateman of Washington Parish.

John Murphy and Gideon Rester, farmers, confessed to killing the two deputies, Bateman declared.

No other persons were implicated in the reported confessions but officials are holding ten other suspects in connection with the killings.

The two deputies had carried out the raid and arrested Murphy, Rester and others, according to the alleged confession, when one of the men obtained a revolver and shot them.

RUSH HEARINGS ON BUDGET IN LEGISLATURE

(By United Press Leased Wire) SACRAMENTO, March 7.—First definite consideration by the state legislature of Governor Richardson's biennial budget was scheduled to occur this afternoon with the senate finance committee gathering in the senate chamber in open session to which other legislators and all interested citizens of the state are invited.

That the budget must be put out of the way before other important matters can come up is agreed and legislators are looking toward final approval of the document at the earliest possible moment.

The assembly ways and means committee will hold its first budget hearing tonight in the regular committee room. This will also be an open meeting.

The assembly oil industries committee will continue its investigation of the petroleum situation in California with an open meeting at 2 p. m. next Tuesday. This was the committee's decision at its first after-recess meeting yesterday.

Assemblyman Dawson, author of the resolution calling for the probe, declared that during the recess he secured proof that much gasoline being sold in Southern California today contains sixty per cent distillate and forty per cent casing head gas, making it exceedingly dangerous to handle. He also charged that gasoline is produced and delivered to service stations at a cost to the refiner of seven cents per gallon and that it could be sold at a profit for ten cents per gallon.

Consideration of the proposed budget for the state department of agriculture was taken up by the agricultural council named by Governor Richardson, which went into executive session here this afternoon. Elimination of the home demonstration agents and other cuts made in this department were to be considered by the council.

Assemblyman Williams, author of the constitutional amendment to place the Bible in public schools of the state, is seeking further support for his measure today, following a lively argument over the proposal in committee last night. Several members of the committee declared themselves opposed to the scheme as liable to provoke a religious war. The matter was continued for one week.

JURY DISAGREES IN GIRL CHARGE CASE

ROY BRITTON, twice tried on a serious charge involving a 15-year-old Fullerton high school girl, will not face trial again, according to Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moyle.

A jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court, after hearing evidence at a trial which lasted two days, last night reported a disagreement. After argument by counsel, the case went to the jury at 3:30 p. m. yesterday. At 9:07 p. m. the disagreement was reported.

Officers Hopwell, Neuschwanger and Barnard investigated, but were able to secure no trace of the asserted bandits.

The money belonged to the Crown stage lines, Reed told Britton.

Attorney Clyde Bishop represented Britton.

BLASTS KILL SIX IN NEW OUTBREAK

Buildings In Dublin Are Mined in Latest Republican Attacks

DUBLIN, March 7.—Detective Kelly was blown to pieces and the customs office in Beresford Place was wrecked by the terrific explosion of a land mine today.

The infernal machine had been placed beneath the doorway of the office. Kelly answered the door in response to a knock. As he did the mine let go, shattering everything around and damaging adjoining buildings. The detective was instantly killed.

Mine explosions played a prominent part in the rebels' guerrilla warfare throughout the southern Ireland last night. A telegraph station on the bank of a canal in Dublin was blown up in a terrific blast that wrecked a bridge and shattered windows throughout the district.

Three Free State officers and two soldiers were killed and a soldier wounded in the explosion of a concealed mine at Knocknagashel, County Kerry.

DEATH CALLS KIN OF W. A. GREENLEAF

(By United Press Leased Wire) CONSTANTINOPLE, March 7.—Turkey today sent to the allies proposals for new negotiations regarding Mosul and the financial and economic clauses of the Lausanne treaty.

The Kemalist government's new peace project demands economic settlements conforming to the national pact or Turkish constitution.

Greece must pay Turkey indemnity, the Ankara government declares, and the Mosul question must be promptly settled in Turkey's favor.

The National assembly rejected the treaty yesterday with only a few dissenting votes. At the same time the assembly gave the government a vote of confidence.

Turkish independence must be upheld and the allies must make further concessions regarding occupied regions to be evacuated upon conclusion of peace, the assembly declared in voting down the Lausanne pact rather than accept it.

The United States commissioner sent a vigorous note to the Ankara government protesting against the quintupling of duty on American flour.

NEW TESTS OF TANLAC PROVE ITS GREAT MERIT

Mrs. Mary E. Fisher furnishes wonderful evidence regarding power of Master Medicine—Was bedridden for two years.

The evidence regarding the value of Tanlac in the treatment of stomach trouble with its many attendant ills is too conclusive to even admit of doubt. Thousands everywhere have testified to its remarkable merits and the list of endorsements grows daily as new tests of its powers are made.

Among the hundreds of California people who have testified is Mrs. Mary E. Fisher, a highly esteemed resident of 2707 W. First St., Los Angeles. In a recent statement regarding the benefits she has derived from Tanlac, Mrs. Fisher said:

"I am just so glad to see how wonderfully my health is being restored that I want to tell everybody about Tanlac. I am already feeling better than I've felt in a long time and am still improving every day."

"I suffered from stomach trouble and was bedfast for two years. Why, my stomach was in such a deplorable condition I could scarcely eat anything, and what little I did eat caused gas to oppress up around my heart and almost smother me, and I couldn't sleep at all like a person should."

"Well, Tanlac was recommended to me so highly that I decided to give it a trial and it just grand the way the medicine is helping me. I have only taken two bottles so far, but already I'm eating and relishing my food, sleeping much better, and feeling greatly improved in every way, and I'm going to keep on with the treatment until I'm entirely well. I can sincerely recommend Tanlac for I am sure it will help anyone suffering from stomach trouble or who needs a general tonic."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.—Adv.

METZGAR'S REPORT URGES C. OF C. BUILDING

CITES SIMILAR HOME SUCCESS IN NEBRASKA

Recommending a Chamber of Commerce building in Santa Ana, urging adoption of the Community Chest plan of dealing with charities, and issuing a warning against "bonus-seeking" manufacturers that might desire to locate here, J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber, presented his annual report to the board of directors at a meeting here today.

"It is now essential that immediate attention be given to the securing of a permanent home for the Chamber. The city's business is expanding and it will be but a short time until even the limited quarters now occupied will be required for city business, and no longer."

Metzgar called attention to the plan submitted by J. P. Baumgartner of a combination Chamber and business club, which has been successfully organized at Lincoln, Nebraska.

"There," said Metzgar's report, "they have a combination of Chamber and club that is apparently an unqualified success. It is housed in a marble-corridor, four-story building, equipped with a banquet hall, library, lounging rooms and billiard rooms."

Expansion Planned

"It not only owns its own building and site but has bought additional property adjoining presumably for expansion."

"It is the community's business headquarters and also luncheon club headquarters."

"The plan seems entirely feasible for Santa Ana and might simplify many present local complications. It is certainly worthy of the minute investigation of business men and other interested."

Speaking of the Community Chest plan of dealing with charities, Metzgar said:

"Apparently it is now full time to establish the Community Chest plan of co-operative financial support for recognized relief, social welfare and citizenship building organizations of the city."

Urge One Big Drive

"Instead of frequent campaigns throughout the year for worthy community-serving organizations the funds usually sought from the public at irregular intervals should be solicited in one united effort. The inauguration of the Community Chest plan should be given the most earnest consideration."

Regarding "bonus-seeking" manufacturers, Metzgar said:

"Many chambers of commerce are regarded by the public as primarily factory grabbing institutions. This is an almost wholly wrong conception of the modern chamber. Bonus giving as a bait is considered obsolete. Sorry experience has taught communities that buying a factory is not necessarily getting a factory. A bonus-seeking plant has too often proven anything but a pay roll investment. Great care should be used in an exhaustive investigation into the probable success of a plant before it is encouraged to locate in a community. Vacant non-operating factory plants are the ghosts of commercial progress, and care must be used lest plants foreordained to failure, get a foothold."

S. A. Adapted to Plants

"Santa Ana is well adapted to manufacturing and many such businesses would succeed here and their pay rolls would constitute one of the city's chief assets."

Metzgar's report showed that the Chamber was in sound financial condition.

"It is gratifying to direct attention to the fact that at all times during the year finances of the association have been sound in health. Both in the general fund and the auto camp park fund, sufficient funds have been available to cover all expenses incident to the work of the organization."

He paid a tribute to the directors of the Chamber in his comment on the successful operation

World's Record Made? Brownridge Never Missed C. of C. Meet

Alex Brownridge, retiring president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, today was put up by J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber, for the world's record in community service.

"President Brownridge," declared Metzgar, "according to records of the Chamber, has an attendance record of 100 per cent."

"This is not true only of the year he presided but also of the entire three years he served as a director."

"During the entire three-year period he has never missed a meeting."

"From what I know of chambers of commerce, this is a world's record in community service."

BICYCLISTS OF 1890 TO RIDE IN PARADE

Cyclists of the '80's and '90's on Saturday forenoon are going to show the boys and girls of today that they can straddle a bicycle with the same ease and grace as of yore, according to an announcement made today by Fred St. Onge, who is arranging details of the sociability bicycle parade to be held here that day.

The parade will start from the courthouse at 11 o'clock sharp, and will end at the administration building of the Polytechnic high school.

The parade, it is expected, will bring out some finely decorated bicycles as well as a great number of girl riders.

The following prizes will be distributed:

Riders with best decorated bicycles—First, a brand new 1923 model Pierce bicycle; second, pair of bicycle tires; third, motor-like handle bars; fourth, bicycle chain; fifth, bike saddle.

Neatest appearing girl riders—First, bicycle lamp; second, pedals.

Oldest rider in age—pair of tires; youngest rider, bicycle horn.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given to the neatest appearing Boy Scouts in uniform.

The school with the greatest number of riders in line will receive the Cycle Trades of America silver cup.

These prizes will be awarded in front of the administration building.

St. Onge will give a brief but instructive talk on "The Bicycle and How to Ride It," at the termination of the ride, and will then go through some fancy stunts that are expected to cause much merriment. An outstanding feature of his talk will be directed to the Boy Scouts.

The body was taken to Pomona yesterday afternoon.

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN

Under the auspices of the Young People's council of the church, a concert is to be given at the First Methodist church here Friday, at 7:45 p. m., it was announced today. Selections by the male quartette of the Lions club; violin solos by Georgia Belle Watson; vocal solos by Maurice Phillips; "pianologues" by Miss Margaret Wickes of the Girls' Glee club under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Hurd; a whistling solo by Miss Stella Anderson and humorous readings by the Misses Beth Nunn and Harriet Owens will compose the program in part. No admission will be asked.

AUTO STRIKES TRUCK, SHATTERS LAMP POST

An automobile driven by A. Hawkins, 1101 East Fourth street, crashed into a Home bakery truck at 418 West Fourth street about 5:45 a. m. today, and then veered into a lamp post across the street, breaking the latter off at the base, he told police.

Hawkins was driving west on Fourth street, when his machine collided with a truck owned by the Home bakery and parked at the side of the street, it was said. As the crash occurred, Hawkins was said to have lost control of his car, which hit the pole, and knocked it down.

Both cars were badly smashed, but no one was injured.

MAN IN NOTE ACTION IS AWARDED $17,000

J. E. Morrison, plaintiff in an action against Theo. Stolt and the Leach Biltwell Automobile company, was awarded $17,250 today as Superior Judge Z. B. West rendered judgment in a suit on a promissory note.

Stolt gave notes totaling $15,000, which the firm secured, the suit had alleged. Interest of $750, attorney's fees of $1,500 and other expenses totaled $17,250.

of the organization during the past year.

"Successful operation of the Chamber," he said, "would be impossible were it not for the constant unselfish devotion of the directors in particular, and the members in general, who are giving service in various ways."

"Under the efficient leadership of President Alex Brownridge the association accomplished much good for the community."

Metzgar said that, outside of cooperation with other bodies and committees, the three outstanding accomplishments were the completion and opening of the auto camp park, the re-establishing of the county fair in Santa Ana and efforts made to secure a city charter government.

TO UNVEIL WAR TABLET HERE MARCH 15

L. G. SWALES IS CHOSEN HEAD OF C. OF C.

Marking the fruition of a labor of love, a beautiful granite tablet in honor of every man and woman of Santa Ana who served in World War will be unveiled by the Santa Ana chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution here Thursday, March 15.

This memorial, bought and paid for by the D. A. R., will be placed in the center of the redwood grove planted in honor of the soldier dead on the grounds of the Santa Ana high school.

Suitably inscribed with a bronze plate, the monument will be further enhanced by a long, granite bench. It will be kept in condition by the board of education.

Plans today were being made to place the huge boulder in position and an attractive presentation program was being arranged by the managing board of the D. A. R.

"This stone," said a member of the board, "will serve as a memorial to all Santa Ana men and women who had a part in the Great War. It will represent the living as well as the glorious dead."

SEA DEATH CASE IS CALLED ACCIDENTAL

Testimony failing to develop any motive for murder or self destruction, a coroner's jury at Smith and Tuthill's undertaking establishment here late yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of accidental drowning, following investigations into the death of Robert E. Morris, Pomona building contractor, whose body was found by fishermen early yesterday morning floating in the ocean off Balboa.

Noland Morris, a nephew, said that he knew of no one who would want to kill Morris out of the way and knew no reason why he should want to take his own life. The relative advanced no theory as to the reason for Morris driving to Balboa. A brother of the dead man was present, but did not testify.

There were no marks on the body that would indicate foul play. Morris did not carry large sums of money. His watch was missing, but it is believed this fell from his pocket after he was drowned. His watch chain was found hanging from his pocket, with the clip attaching the watch to the chain missing.

According to Frederick H. Eley, architect, "dirt will be flying with a few days."

ANAHEIM WILL PRESENT AIR
BILL HERE

As a matter of public service,
KFAW, the Register Radio phone, has invited all towns in Orange county to broadcast programs of their own arrangement.

Programs will be broadcast tomorrow night by Anaheim.

The KFAW programs are being picked up by numberless persons in all parts of America, reports indicate. It is believed that this series of programs will aid in spreading the good word for Orange county.

The plan is to present a talk on each program setting forth the desirable features of each town, and those of the county in general.

The "Anaheim night" program, arranged by George E. Johnson of Anaheim, to begin at 6:15 o'clock tomorrow night, will be as follows:

by L. Danz; words by Isabel
Shepherd — Anaheim Community

Radio listeners are asked to tune in tomorrow night at 6:15 instead of the usual time, 6:30. The length and importance of the Anaheim fifteen minutes early, it was announced.

With the Santa Ana junior college as the theme of the afternoon, the High School Auxiliary of the P.T.A. will meet in the music room

TELL BUILDERS
EXCHANGE AIM AT MEETING

Better building, better materials, and protection of the house owner against the irresponsible contractor are some of the cardinal principles of the Orange county division of the Builders' Exchange of Southern California. It was disclosed last night at an open meeting of the division held at the Elks' club, Anaheim.

Sixty contractors, architects and building material men of the country were present.

Godfrey Edwards, vice-president of the Southern California chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America and a member of the Los Angeles firm of Edwards,
Wiley and Dixon, declared that thousands of home builders had been compelled to pay twice for their materials because of dishonest or inefficient contractors. He attributed most of the losses to inefficient contractors.

Much state construction work done under force account, he said, instead of award on bids, had cost the state government many thousands of dollars more than such work would have cost under award by contract.

George Wells, secretary of the Orange county division and chairman of the meeting, stated that the organization had not been created for inflating building costs, but rather to promote closer social relations among the members of the building industry. At the same time its purpose was to establish a group of men, he said, with whom those contemplating building construction could deal with every confidence in their reliability.

J. S. Fluor of Santa Ana, president; D. C. Calselman, secretary

MANY WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

Through the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Two Interesting Cases.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing symptoms first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious trouble. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Mrs. Edwards Avoids Operation

Wilson, N.C.—"For about a year I was not able to do anything, not even my housework, because of the pains in my sides and the bearing-down pains. I could only lie around the house. The doctor said nothing but an operation would help me. But my mother had taken the Vegetable Compound and she told me what it had done for her, and so I took it and I am glad to tell every one that it made me a strong woman, and I have had two children since then"—Mrs. R. G. Westover, 325 Grant Street, Akron, Ohio.

A story with real human interest is "Adam's Rib," Cecil B. De Mille's latest production which opens a five-day engagement at the Temple theater tonight.

The theme of the production is the untangling of the affairs of a husband and wife by their young daughter, a typical example of the sensible type of the modern girl.

Anna Q. Nilsson, as Mrs. Ramsay, the wife of Michael Ramsay, a prosperous Chicago business man, played by Milton Sills, has taken a fancy to M. Jaromir (Theodore Kosloff), the exiled king of Morania. Her husband, fearing that he is going to lose her, hits upon a plan to have Jaromir's country recall him to the throne.

Morania is in need of funds, and Ramsay, an enormously rich man, buys up all the wheat in Morania and in return they recall Jaromir to his throne, and he is thus gotten out of the way. His wife returns to him, after realizing that her interest in Jaromir was only a passing fancy.

The daughter, played by Pauline Garon, saves the mother from discovery while she is at the apartment of the king. Ramsay sees his wife's pocketbook on the table. Mathilda pops out from behind the curtain where she and her mother are concealed and says that she is the one that came to visit Jaromir. Ramsay is completely taken back, and tells her that she is an outcast and no man would marry her. Prof. Nathan Reade (Elliott Dexter) whom Mathilda had met at the customs inspection on her return from Europe, steps up and professes his love. Mathilda and he are married, and everything turns out well in the end, thanks to the girl. Jaromir is punished by marrying a fat princess awaiting him in his native land.

"MY AMERICAN WIFE" AT YOST THEATER TONIGHT

The beautiful city of Buenos Aires, capital of the Argentine Republic, "the Paris of Latin America," is the locale of Sam Wood's new production, "My American Wife," starring Gloria Swanson, which will be the feature at the Yost theater for three days beginning tonight.

"My American Wife," is virtually the first screen production which is entirely concerned with the people, architecture, customs and traditions of that great city, and for this reason will doubtless prove a unique revelation of an interesting virgin locale.

The picture is a romance, the principal characters being a young Argentine politician and sportsman, and an American girl with whom he falls in love. Scenes are shown in the Argentine chamber of deputies, in a low-class cafe-dive, in an aristocratic, yet Bohemian studio party, and in one of the historic old estancias or haciendas.

NECKLACE ADDS LAUGHS TO "NOBODY'S MONEY"

Who's got the button? One of the most laughable situations in "Nobody's Money," the picture starring Jack Holt and now showing at the West End is that of the stolen necklace. This necklace passes from hand to hand at a dizzying rate of speed, everybody trying to get rid of it by passing it on to his neighbor.

Holt, in the role of a wealthy young man who tries burglaries for adventure and pastime, chooses for his pal a real yegg, Eddie, for whom everything of value has a lure. When Holt returns the "honest life," he endeavors to reform Eddie. He hires his ex-burglar pal as a secretary. Then the fun begins in earnest.

Holt falls in love with the Governor's daughter. When he visits her, his secretary accompanies him. Finding the safe open, Eddie takes from there a pearl necklace. But he is seen by Holt, who demands the necklace with the purpose of returning it. Before he can do so, however, the Governor enters the room.

From then on the pearl necklace becomes a "hot cake." Nobody wants it, yet they can't rid themselves of it. After trying many and varied methods of returning the valuable jewelry to its proper place in the Governor's safe, Holt finally succeeds in returning it unseen and breathes a sigh of relief. But he forgets to lock the safe, and Eddie, venturing along a minute later, again steals the pearls and brings them to Holt, who is almost completely overcome by this turn of events.

But with the pearls in his pocket, he proposes to the Governor's daughter and is accepted, then manages to slip the pearls back on her person without being caught red-handed. Wanda Hawley heads an excellent supporting cast.

Inn Offers Setting For Mid-day Wedding Of Smart Appointments

Betrothal Made Known At Smart Bridge For Miss Ball

Engagement Shower Planned by Friends Honors Youthful Bride

Santa Cruz Wedding Interests Friends In This City

Guests Gather For Pleasant Affair In Honor of Birthday

St. Ann's Inn was chosen as the setting for a charmingly appointed wedding today at 1 o'clock when Miss Helen Reinhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Reinhaus, plighted her troth to Paul Goldmann, prominent young mining engineer of Oakland.

Only members of the two families and a very few close friends saw the beautiful ceremony which was performed by Dr. Edgar Magnin of the B'nai Brit Temple, Los Angeles. The floral setting was especially beautiful, one of the attractive rooms on the second floor of the Inn having been converted into a bower of spring blossoms for the event.

There, Miss Reinhaus spoke her vows, arrayed in a lovely gown of amber crepe Georgette with creamy lace draperies. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her cousin, Miss Helene Newbauer, of San Francisco, was her sole attendant and was gowned in an imported frock, lacy little affair from Bou Souers in Paris. Her flowers were roses and lilies of the valley in corsage effect.

The bride's brother, Mr. Stanley Reinhaus, attended Mr. Goldmann as best man.

Following the ceremony an elaborate breakfast was served in the private dining room of the Inn, where blossoming bouquets and spring flowers gave a colorful background. Places were indicated for about twenty-five guests, including many from out-of-town.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldman left in the afternoon on a motor honeymoon whose destination remained their own secret. Mrs. Goldman traveled in a smart three-piece suit of sand-colored Poiret twill worn with a chisel little feathered hat.

They will make their home in Oakland.

Daughter of one of the city's leading business men, the bride is one of our most charming girls and possesses an enviable place in the affections of a host of friends. She has been the incentive for many pre-nuptial affairs with which those friends delighted to honor her engagement announced to honor her engagement announced to the young people will establish in Pasadena. Household linens, chin and kindred gifts were given along with a handsome cut glass water set from her sister, Miss Helen Perine.

The games were followed by the prize awards when Mrs. Albert Field holding high score received a beautiful justre vase whose color tones repeated the dominant colors of the afternoon. A slightly smaller vase was presented to Mrs. Dean Hammond while to Miss Margaret Ellis fell the consolation of an attractive pottery flower bowl with its quaint holder.

The tables were arranged with lovely linens for serving the tea menu. Rose baskets in alternating pink and lavender, centered each table while the bridal motif was used in ices frozen in various forms sacred to Cupid and his wiles. With them were served coffee, nuts, heart shaped mints and a variety of individual cakes, emphasizing the nature of the occasion both in form and harmonious color tints. Gay rose favors accompanied the refreshments.

Just preceding the serving of refreshments, two pretty youngsters, Little Miss Joyce Wentworth and Master Dick Daley, in quaint pink and lavender costumes, made their appearance with the announcement that they represented the parcel post and had packages for Miss Ball alone. The packages were arranged in a small wagon decked with the colors of the afternoon, and were presented to the honor guests who found in the many lovely articles in crystal, silver and linen, abundant evidence of the affection of her friends.

The early return of Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Ball to Sacramento where Dr. Ball will pursue his duties as assemblyman from this district, precluded the possibility of formally announcing the engagement of Miss Ball and Mr. Witmer, so the affair was made known in the charmingly informal manner followed by Miss Wingood. No details of the wedding have yet been made known but it is not anticipated for the early summer according to the belief of friends of the family.

Miss Wingood's guests yesterday included in addition to the honorees, Miss Arville Ball, the Misses Helen Reinhaus, Marjory Ellis, Doris Robins, Estelle Nisson, Violet Wiesleman, Marguerite Tedford, Harriet Warner of Alhambra; Mesdames John Cannon, Harold Yost, George Parker, Samuel Barker, Donald MacDonald, Edward McFadden, Loring Dale, Bertrand West, Dana K. Hammond, Albert Field, George Faul Jr., Dexter Ball, Farwell Hull, J. Baxter Juvenat, Marvin Morrison, Raymond Adkinson, Floyd Knight and Sigfried Silverman of Fullerton.

What It Is; What It Does; How It Does It

A brief examination of the science which is saving the lives and relieving the sufferings of thousands. A Chiropractic Adjustment is a thrust delivered to the Spine for the purpose of adjusting displaced vertebrae into normal position, thereby freeing the nerves that are pressed up. A perfect system of nerves means perfect health. All nerves originate in the brain, converging at its base, forming the Spinal Cord. The Cord passes downward through the Canal formed by the 24 vertebrae or Spine. From the Cord thirty-one pairs of Nerve Trunks are given off, between the vertebrae. Each of these nerve trunks divide into about two million branches, which have their endings in the Skin, Muscles and the various organs all over the body. Every part of your body the size of a pin point has its nerve supply. Can you imagine the effect if one of the thirty-one Main Nerve Trunks was pressed upon at the opening where it left the Spine? The effect would be disease at the ending of that nerve or its branches. Suppose that nerve ended at the stomach, then Stomach Trouble is the effect. The same would apply to any other organ of the body, the cause of the trouble being the pressure at the Spine. Chiropractic removes this pressure, and Nature sends her forces over the Nerves and the affected part becomes well.

Recovery

The rapidity with which recovery often occurs as a result of expert Chiropractic adjustments seems to those without experience almost incredible. The time is coming when everybody will have their spine adjusted, thereby adding years to their life and life to their years. I assure you there are no embarrassing examinations, as my examinations are all made from the Spine. Don't say it can't be done—that's what people said about the Telephone, Wireless Telegraphy, Airship, etc. Investigate. If you will call at my office I will be glad to make an analysis of your Spine, stating conditions as I find them and give you Honest, Unbiased and Unprejudiced opinion as to the results you might expect from Chiropractic Adjustments. There will be No Charge for this service and I invite you to come.

Ladies Pay Special Attention

Many a woman neglects her Health because in consulting other doctors she fears she may have to expose her body. The following illustration shows that such a fear is groundless when a Chiropractor is consulted. Only the spine is exposed.

SAFE, SANE AND SATISFACTORY

In their search for Health, for many reasons, the people are demanding Drugless Methods. Chiropractic stands head and shoulders above all other Drugless Methods and the Adjustment takes but a few minutes. The results are satisfactory. Chiropractic is safe, sane and logical and investigating minds will be well pleased for the reason that causes and effects can be traced by the frequent results obtained in applying this method. No man, in justice to himself, can afford to ignore the claims of something new, merely because it is new. When we arrive at a place where we refuse to investigate and reach our own conclusions, we cease to be progressive and narrow down to an untenable plane of belief in the infallibility of the discoveries of a past age. Investigate Chiropractic. You will be surprised and satisfied.

"No matter how strange, unusual or even opposed to established custom or belief an idea may be, if its claims prove to be in harmony with all the essential facts concerning the subject to which the idea is related, it is true and valuable, and should be accepted."

THE "FLU" AND YOU

Did you have INFLUENZA and possibly PNEUMONIA during the recent epidemic? If so, have you fully recovered your health? Or, are you feeling weak, tired, and run down? Do you know that some of the AFTER EFFECTS of Influenza are as bad and even worse than the disease? Your Heart or Kidneys or Lungs may have been weakened. If you had Influenza and do not feel up to the mark

TAKE CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS AND GET A NEW LEASE ON LIFE

No matter what your ailment is, do not think your case is hopeless until you have tried Chiropractic Spinal Adjustment. What it has done for others it will do for you. Do not, through ignorance of this wonderful science, shut the door to your ultimate relief and happiness.

Chiropractors do not treat, heal or cure. They eliminate the cause—Nature cures. Will be pleased to explain to anyone how Chiropractic principles may be applied to their particular ailments. Consultation and Spinal Examination Free.

Your Spine an Index

By referring to the illustration you will see near the lower end a magnified illustration of a Normal and an Impinged nerve. Fig. 2 shows a nerve in Perfect Health, performing its function as Nature intended. Fig. 2 shows a nerve Impinged, and the Flow of Vital Energy Obstructed. Fig. 3 shows Vertebrae out of Alignment subluxated.

CONSTIPATION

The foundation and cause of the majority of ills to which man is heir yields readily to Chiropractic adjustments. Chiropractic removes the CAUSE. It removes the nerve interference which has been stealing the natural vigor of the intestinal impulse. The Seat of Energy—the nerve energy that is behind every movement of the body—is the brain, which enters the body by way of the backbone. The backbone has twenty-four movable joints, and between every joint emits a branch of the spinal cord that serves some portion of the body.

When the strain, by jar or other mischance, one of the joints of the backbone become out of alignment it causes pressure upon the spinal nerve (see diagram), causing a weakening of the nerve vigor in the part affected. The Chiropractor, by an adjustment given by hand, restores the joint to proper alignment, the pressure is removed and Nature at once supplies a normal degree of vigor and strength to the affected part.

You owe it to yourself, your family and your friends, to know about Chiropractic. Today, tomorrow, any time, there may be an ache, a pain, a swelling—some form of bodily trouble which cries out for relief—which you want quickly removed.

Learn to look to your local Chiropractor as the man who can find the cause of that trouble surely and quickly; and who, finding the cause of your complaint, adjusts it and thus the ill effect vanishes.

CHIROPRACTIC IS THE SCIENCE OF COMMON SENSE APPLIED TO THE HUMAN MACHINE. Remember, this is not a Fad, Fancy or Theory. Thousands of Chiropractors are proving its Absolute Truth every day. It is the Golden Gateway to Health.

THINK IT OVER

WHY CONSULTATION IS FREE Because occasionally some people doubt whether THEIR trouble is within my field. Sometimes they think it is, when I know it is NOT. More often they think it might not be, when I know it IS. In the first case, I tell them candidly and they seek elsewhere. It would not be just to make a charge, would it?

In the second case, I tell them what I can do; then THEY decide what they wish to do. No obligation is implied. Isn't that the FAIR way to do?

Far be it from me to consider Chiropractic a "Cure-all", but realizing the sacredness of human life and the responsibility resting upon me, I feel it is Proper and Right that the Facts and Results of Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments be brought to public notice in order that knowledge of Chiropractic may be spread among the people and its benefits be more widely enjoyed by those seeking Restoration to Health that I have run this educational propaganda. In this and succeeding announcements I shall earnestly and honestly try to show the Sensibleness and Success of Chiropractic in restoring Health.

REFUSES TO OBEY IN ARMY; GOES TO JAIL

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—Reginald Darroch, 24, member of a well known newspaper family, was today scheduled to start a five day jail sentence as the result of alleged insubordination in the 484th company of the National Guard. It was charged he refused to leave the orderly room when commanded to do so by Captain Millard Greenbaum. Frank Agen, another member of the same company, received a five day sentence for non-attendance at drills.

To Explain Aims.

It is the opinion of the executive committee, as expressed at a meeting Monday noon, that the plans of the club should be thoroughly explained before any effort is made to make a drive for funds.

It is believed that when all concerned have a full knowledge of the program it will not be difficult to raise the fund contemplated. It is estimated that $12,000 will be required from the first advertising campaign of six months.

In that period it will be demonstrated whether results are commensurate with the cost, and upon the result will depend whether a second campaign of six months shall be carried on.

To Advance City.

White also called attention to the fact that the purpose of the club is exclusively to advertise Santa Ana, and that it will in no way interfere with the functions of the Chamber of Commerce.

Many Speeches, Stories

There were many speeches and many stories. The only attribute demanded of the man on his feet was that he be able to raise a laugh from the "fellow" who sat at ease, with their belts tucked at one angle and their cigars at another.

More than seventy-five men sat at table and ate of the chicken and listened to the speeches that followed. Some were club members, some will be club members, and all were welcome guests. President Smith said so.

Not much of a job, judging from the fact that the only fellow there who did not make a speech was The Register reporter. He couldn't because he had broken the lead of his pencil.

Captain J. E. Hall, B. R. Ford, Professor W. M. Clayton, J. A. Cranston, W. D. Barker, Albert Perkins, W. H. Finley, John Cochren, Jay Hamill, Amos Cox, Dan Cook, L. A. West, Former President J. S. Smart, Dr. P. R. Reynolds, Judge Talbert, Ed Parker of the "500" team, George Peters, who returned to his old chair, the pinocchio gang, the pin pool sharks, the bottle pool sharks, the billiard wizards, and solo symphony six and others all made speeches. Some of them made two speeches; some only made half of one.

Then President Smith glanced at some little cards in his hands and said in a soft voice:

"I think that is all." He shuffled the cards. "I hope I have not overlooked anyone." He shuffled the cards again. "If I have, I hope he will excuse the oversight."

Whereat Jay Hamill whispered in the president's ear. His left ear. Forth went the call for another speech.

"The membership of the club, it was announced, is limited to 100 men. Captain Hall, oldest member, charter member, of the club, said they must "all be gentlemen."

A more facetious younger member said they must "all be speech-makers."

It was a big night, and everyone promised to come again to listen to the speeches if Jay Hamill would serve another chicken dinner.

PLEDGES BEING MADE FOR NEW BOOST CLUB

With local residents evidencing their interest in the Greater Santa Ana club by making reservations for the community dinner to be held at St. Ann's Inn Friday night, and with a number of volunteer pledges being made to the advertising fund, success of the dinner and movement to advertise Santa Ana in Los Angeles papers, today seemed assured, according to Everett A. White, president of the organization.

White pointed out that the dinner is for the purpose of putting before the men and women of the community the objects of the club. He particularly emphasized the fact that there is no scheduled program to ask for pledges at the dinner.

To Explain Aims.

It is the opinion of the executive committee, as expressed at a meeting Monday noon, that the plans of the club should be thoroughly explained before any effort is made to make a drive for funds.

It is believed that when all concerned have a full knowledge of the program it will not be difficult to raise the fund contemplated. It is estimated that $12,000 will be required from the first advertising campaign of six months.

In that period it will be demonstrated whether results are commensurate with the cost, and upon the result will depend whether a second campaign of six months shall be carried on.

To Advance City.

White also called attention to the fact that the purpose of the club is exclusively to advertise Santa Ana, and that it will in no way interfere with the functions of the Chamber of Commerce.

GANNA WALSKA WOULD HELP RUSSIAN OPERA

CHICAGO, March 6.—Ganna Walska McCormick, Polish diva, today offered to "help out" the Russian grand opera company, which opens the third week of its engagement on Monday.

Ganna drifted into her home town, unheralded and unsung, from her Eastern concert tour last night. Accompanied by Mrs. Emmons Blaine, sister of Harold McCormick, and her manager, Jules Daiber, the Polish star attended the Russian opera.

After the performance, Daiber approached S. Hurck, manager, and said that since Hourskay, star of the company, had left to join a New York company, and last night was Challapin's last appearance, Ganna Walska might lend a hand as a "guest artist" for a few performances.

Hurck called Leo Feodoroff, impresario, into the conference, but the result was not announced.

Ganna Walska had planned to leave for California within a week to join her husband.

TALKS DELIGHT AT DINNER OF SUNSET CLUB

"We have with us tonight," remarked George S. Smith, president and toastmaster of the Sunset Club at the supper served last night in the new club quarters on the third floor of the First National bank building.

"We have with us tonight the oldest and the youngest members of this, the oldest club in Santa Ana, the oldest and the youngest member, and in addition all the members in between."

And he waved a comprehensive hand around the table, which had groaned a few minutes before under the weight of a chicken dinner served by Chief Chef and Chairman of the Entertainment Committee Jay Hamill, and his white-aproned chicken chevaliers.

More than seventy-five men sat at table and ate of the chicken and listened to the speeches that followed. Some were club members, and all were welcome guests. President Smith said so.

FLORIDA COST ANALYZED BY CALIFORNIA VISITOR

Tustin Grower Describes Ridge Lands and Other Citrus Factors

EXPENSE IS NOMINAL

Utt Makes Interesting Comparison of Orange Production Costs

By C. E. UTT
(With California Growers in Florida)

Tampa was a surprise to me. It had come to signify in my thought a small town of 20,000 or 30,000 sleepy souls who, grateful to be undisturbed, moved placidly along their mossy paths to the cemetery.

Tampa, however, is a city with hustle and bustle and noise, with skyscrapers and electric railways, with shipping, commerce and manufacturing plants.

The metropolitan district comprises three separate incorporations, adjoining one another, but with the same interests, aims and destiny. These incorporations, containing about 100,000 inhabitants, must soon be consolidated under one head.

Tampa is not a resort city, like many of her sister cities, although one large hotel caters to the tourist trade. Most of the winter tourists who visit Tampa Bay make their headquarters at St. Petersburg, across the bay, and some twenty miles distant.

Leaving Tampa, our party went by rail to Lakeland, Polk county, where we were met by a delegation of "Boosters" and driven all day through that wondrous region of rolling hills, valleys and lakes known as the ridge section.

Quail, Driven In By Cold, Fed by Boy Scouts and Citizens

ETNA MILLS, Cal., March 7.—A large climbing rosebush at the Charles Sells place, the heavy ivy on the veranda of the Brundage home, and the heavy box hedge at the residence of Dr. Bathurst afford daily shelter to three large flocks of quail that are feeding in Etna this winter.

The quail are of the valley variety, and this is the third season they have wintered here. They were cared for last year by Siskiyou county Boy Scouts. This year a community fund provides wheat for them, and Emile Kappler and Charles Sells have attended to their feeding since the heavy snow.

Grain is thrown out for them each evening just before sunset, when they immediately gather at the respective places.

At least 100 whirled up in a single flock last night at the rosebush. The quail seem to sense the protection of public sentiment and have become quite a winter attraction.

"The functions of the organization," said Wahlberg, who was named as temporary chairman, "will be inter-county, and it is predicted that it will fill a long-felt need."

"At the Whittier meeting, W. S. Twombley of Los Angeles was named as temporary chairman and it was decided that the next meeting shall be held at Whittier, Saturday, April 7.

"All growers interested in this organization are cordially invited to attend the next meeting. The farm bureau will be glad to furnish additional information.

"Among those who spoke at the Whittier meeting, advocating organization, was George W. Sherrwood of Fullerton. He declared that one of the principal objects of this organization should be that of co-ordinating the marketing facilities for persimmons.

Outline Program

At the next meeting, a program of work for the year will be outlined.

"Other delegates from Orange and Los Angeles counties pointed out that owing to the lack of information on cultural practice the persimmon growers department should adopt an educational program to begin with, in order that present and prospective growers might have a better guide of scientific information available."

PERSIMMON IS CITRUS SURVEY TO HAVE NEW DEPARTMENT

Speed Plans to Organize Growers of Three Southern Counties

With temporary officers busily engaged in working out a constitution and by-laws, and with many ranchers in Orange county showing a keen interest in the project, plans today were being made for the organization of the persimmon growers of Southern California, according to H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

At a preliminary meeting of representative growers from Orange, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara counties, held at Whittier, it was unanimously decided to organize, following a preliminary meeting held at Fullerton several weeks ago.

"The functions of the organization," said Wahlberg, who was named as temporary chairman, "will be inter-county, and it is predicted that it will fill a long-felt need."

"At the Whittier meeting, W. S. Twombley of Los Angeles was named as temporary chairman and it was decided that the next meeting shall be held at Whittier, Saturday, April 7.

Many Groves to Be Recorded by Extension Workers Here

Designed to furnish invaluable information for ranchers, packing house executives and farm bureau officers, a thorough citrus survey of the orange orchards of Orange county will start this week at Villa Park, according to Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg.

Willard Smith heads the committee in charge of the movement, with Major H. G. Upham and E. Bula actively assisting him.

"Thirty or forty groves in the Villa Park section will be recorded as to their fertilization and irrigation practices during the last decade," said Wahlberg.

"The same plan will be followed at Tustin, El Modena, Anaheim, Fullerton and Placentia.

Name Committees

Sub-committees have been appointed by the county citrus committee and the members thereof will assist the extension service operatives and the citrus experiment station workers in putting the plan over.

Members of the sub-committees include C. V. Newman, Felton Browning, Dixon Tubbs, Dr. S. S. Twombley, L. E. Hampton, Frank Kirker, C. W. Coman, Louis Jacobson, John Tufts, Charles Hanson, W. M. Mertz, W. C. Maheran, J. B. Eaton, William Panner, and others.

"Another forward step was taken when the citrus committee, at its last meeting, decided to put so-called tree doctors on a licensed basis, the same as sprayers and fumigators.

"Growers have felt that this important work in the citrus grove should be done by properly trained men and at their request the matter was taken up by the citrus committee.

A. A. Brock, horticultural commissioner, presented the law to the committee of growers and assured them that if it was the sense of the majority of the growers to have this provision of the law carried out with respect to tree doctors, he would undertake to enforce the law in this respect.

"This will require some form of examination on the part of the licensee. A resolution was passed requesting the horticultural commissioner to enforce the law."

ELABORATE PLANS FOR MAY DAY MADE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 7.—May day is to be a true fete occasion for both the children and their parents, according to information given the children and the teachers by the authorities of the grammar school.

Elaborate plans are being made for the festive Maypole, flower displays and spring time dance revels in the morning of the eventful day. While the afternoon is promised for competitive sports and games in which all from the kindergarten to the eighth grade will be given opportunities to win ribbons indicative of their prowess in athletic lines.

The "mothers" of the various classes, who are now being chosen in support of the plan adopted recently by the Parent-Teacher association of the "Grade Mother" plan, are being asked to co-operate to make the day one of the greatest carnivals for "everybody and their brother" ever held in Huntington Beach.

LOS ANGELES CHIEF WANTS GENUINE NAGS

LOS ANGELES, March 6—Chief of Police Oaks asked the city for $500 with which to buy riding horses for handsome traffic policemen. The city council told him to use some of the city's former fire horses, now on pension.

Chief Oaks today replied to the council that he "wanted horses, not ex-fire plugs." He said one mounted officer could do as much as ten flat footed officers in directing traffic. The idea, Chief Oaks says, is to have the mounted officers gallop up and down past the crawling automobiles, keeping them in line.

Fire horses won't do because they would dash madly off at the first sound of a fire bell, and Chief Oaks says he doesn't care to have his officers disfigure their beauty in accidents of this sort.

STRUCTURE REFLECTS GROWTH OF COUNTY FRUIT EXCHANGE

Beautiful new home of Orange County Fruit Exchange, Almond and Glassell streets, Orange, where gigantic business which brings in millions annually, is carried on by Secretary L. D. Palmer and his associates. With a monetary return last year of $5,752,991, the thirteen associations of the exchange this year will ship 1,736,000 boxes of oranges and lemons, with a value in excess of six million dollars.

GOOD QUALITY SIRES HELD IMPORTANT

Valencia is King—and here we have his throne-room.

This striking monument to the citrus industry, erected at a cost of $20,500, is situated at the intersection of Almond and Glassell streets, Orange, and is glowing tribute to the sires and men who, away back in 1893, saw the possibilities of citrus development in the southern half of Orange county.

Occupying a prominent corner in the heart of Orange, this beautiful structure, 40 by 80 feet, houses Secretary L. D. Palmer and his associates, and marks the fruition of the dreams of Valencia pioneers who looked into the crystal glass and saw a future big with promise.

As a result of this vision, the Orange County Fruit Exchange, with thirteen associations in the fold, is functioning at capacity, doing business of six million dollars annually, and constantly increasing its usefulness to growers and packers.

These ratios are based on more than a million head of breeding stock listed with the department in "Better Sires—Better Stock."

The figures show that on the average farm where pure-bred sires only are kept, there is one bull to 18 cows; one stallion to nearly 20 mares; one boar to 12 sows; one ram to nearly 30 ewes; one buck to 25 does; and one rooster to 21 hens. These figures show at once the economy of beginning improvement in animal breeding with the use of pure-bred sires.

The history of the nation-wide movement for better live stock shows, however, that the use of pure-bred females quickly follows the use of pure-bred males. More than one-third of the female live stock and more than two-thirds of the female poultry listed in the better-sires campaign are themselves pure-breds. This promises much more rapid improvement in the quality of the country's live stock if pure-bred sires alone were used.

The third year, shipments reached 111,800 boxes, but the next year they declined to 34,000 boxes. This, I imagine, was the period when the navels, seedlings and other varieties began to give way to the Valencia.

"The rapid advance is best understood by a glance at the figures. Last year the exchange shipped 961,714 boxes of valencias and 301,283 boxes of lemons.

"This year's estimated shipments will reach a total of 1,736,000 boxes of oranges and lemons.

"Last year, the net returns for citrus shipments by the exchange were $5,752,991.49, compared with $5,937,165.04 for 1921.

Six Million Prospect.
"If all goes well, this year's figures should run well over six million. Compared with $86,000, the total returns back in the infancy of the organization, this gain is little short of remarkable. It is a lasting tribute to the men who had the courage and the initiative to stay with the ship through all the perilsous years."

On account of the steady growth of the organization and the lack of fire protection for its valuable records, the board of directors several years ago authorized the purchase of a lot at the corner of Almond and Glassell streets. Today a beautiful hollow tile and stucco building graces this corner.

The structure is modern in every way and is provided with enough vault space to protect the records. In addition to the needs of the organization for an office building of this kind the directors feel that an excellent investment has been made. This property has materially increased in value since its purchase.

LOTZHEY, MURPHY MILL TO DRAW AT VERNON

LOS ANGELES, March 7—Johnny Lotzhey, Sacramento, featherweight, battled Larry Murphy to a draw in the feature main event at Vernon last night.

The fans were treated to the unusual spectacle of seeing a heavyweight champion act as second to a preliminary boxer. Jack Dempsey seconded Lee Moore in a bout with Joe Layman. The decision to Moore was unpopular with the galleryites.

PATCHES BLAMED BY PARTY PRIZEWINNERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 7.—Patches of variegated colors are reported to be the reason Helen Eddy and Oliver Peavey won two $1 prizes for the best hard times costume appearing at the English Tea party given in honor of a group of high school freshmen at the Woman's clubhouse Friday evening.

A blue apron, patched coquettishly in the lower left hand corner of the skirt with red and in the upper right hand corner with a brilliant pink, and a long "pig tail" hanging to her knees and entirely different in shade from the wearer's own, gave the unique effect to Helen's outfit. As for Oliver, it wasn't a costume, merely a patch quilt of all colors cut out and fitting a man of his size.

GIVES SUMMARY OF MEASURES NOW BEFORE SOLONS AT CAPITOL

Secretary of Agricultural Legislative Committee Reviews Farmers' Bills

URGES BROAD READING

Many Changes Proposed In New Bills In House and Senate

R. N. Wilson, secretary of the agricultural legislative committee, today issued, for the benefit of California farmers, a summary of the measures affecting agriculture that have been introduced at the present session of the legislature.

"This information," said Wilson, "has been compiled to give farmers a general knowledge of the contents of such bills and to assist them in sorting the measures of particular interest."

"This, however, should not replace a careful reading of bills considered important, since space has not permitted a detailed analysis."

"Only a rough classification has been possible, so the entire list should be scanned to avoid overlooking important measures."

Some of the measures summarized by Wilson follow:

Co-Operative Marketing

S. 65—Harris and Inman. The present laws under which co-operative marketing organizations are formed and operate are more or less a patch-work and portions need clarifying and expanding. With these later purposes in mind Mr. George E. Ferrand, Senator M. B. Harris, and Milton Sapiro, with the suggestions from many organizations, have drafted this comprehensive bill which would add a new title to Part 4 of Division First of the Civil Code to be known as Title 23 relating to non-profit co-operative associations with or without capital stock. It is realized that the measure will need some revision so it should be carefully analyzed and suggestions submitted. Since the bill contains eleven pages it will not be feasible to discuss it at length.

A. 677—Duval, would amend the railroad rates to Kansas City, for the sixth annual Herford round-up, March 19-22, have been granted to the Transcontinental Passenger association from all points in California, as well as from twenty-two other states and western Canada. A fare and a half will be charged for round-trip tickets purchased on the certificate plan. The return limit is March 26.

Going tickets are good on and after March 15 from Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Michigan, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin.

For California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and western Canada the going date is March 13, or later.

Five hundred registered Herefords will be sold at auction in the sixth annual round-up. Cattlemen from all over the nation and from foreign countries will attend. The consignments include 300 bulls and 200 females, assembled from 87 herds in thirteen states.

Baseball Equipment For Individuals Or Clubs Quality Goods Unusual Prices

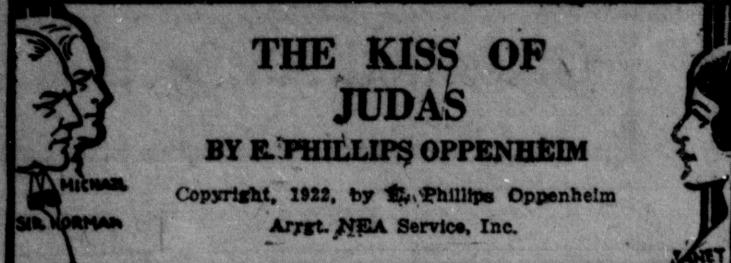

The other night I was "listening in" on my radio and I overheard a conversation between the sports editor of the Examiner and the Manager of the Cubs. Each agreed that there was more baseball enthusiasm this year than ever before.

And say—from the way we are selling outfits, balls, bats, gloves, etc., we believe that Orange County's going to set the pace.

THE KISS OF JUDAS

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim

After NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, is devoting his time to tracking down an arch criminal of many disguises known to him as MICHAEL SAYERS.

JANET SOALE, maid in Sayers' cottage in England, is in love with her master. She shoots down a police officer who had tracked Michael to his abode.

Sayers, known at the golf club as Mr. Stanfield, plays a game with Sir Norman during which the suspicions of the latter are ascribed to as Mr. Stanfield's real identity.

After a three-months' vacation, Greys meets Stanfield in a hotel lobby. An insurance company asks Sir Norman to question a South American widow, living at the hotel, regarding a policy of a hundred thousand pounds carried on her remarkable rope of pearls.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Have you had any intimation of thieves working in this neighborhood?" I asked him.

"None whatever," he replied. "I will be perfectly frank with you. It is not an ordinary robbery of which we are afraid. For some reason or other, our inquiry department has formed a dubious opinion of Mrs. De Mendoza herself."

"I see," I remarked. "You are afraid of a fraud."

"Precisely! Directly we received the letter from the hotel detective, we rang up the manager here. All that we could learn was that the illness was altogether unexpected, and that the man had been compelled to go home at a moment's notice. In reply to our request that a trained detective might take his place, the management assured us that they considered nothing of the sort necessary. No robbery of jewels had ever taken place from this hotel, and they considered their night porter fully competent to watch over the interests of their guests."

"Sir William Greaves, our manager, desired me to suggest a fee of two hundred guineas," my visitor concluded.

"I will accept the commission," I promised.

The next morning I interviewed the manager of the hotel, to whom I was well known. He showed some irritation when I spoke of Mrs. De Mendoza's necklace and her nervousness concerning it.

"To be quite frank with you," he confessed, "although Mrs. De Mendoza is a good client and pays her accounts regularly, I am inclined to be sorry that we ever let the rooms."

"Why?" I asked.

"People with valuable jewelry should accept its possession with a certain resignation," he replied. "This is the last hotel in London where a jewel robbery would be likely. The lady herself, I understand, takes every possible care and caution. She wears her necklace nowhere except in the restaurant and lounge, and every night it is deposited in the hotel safe. However, you may rely upon it, Sir Norman, that every facility will be given to you in your task. I would suggest that you pay a visit to the lady herself."

The idea had already occurred to me, and later in the day I sent up my card to Mrs. De Mendoza and was at once invited to enter her sitting room. I found her writing letters, simply dressed in a black negligee and wearing the pearls. As she turned and invited me to seat myself, she stirred in my memory a faint suggestion of reminiscence. She listened to the few words with which I introduced myself, and smiled deprecatingly.

"It is true that I am very foolish," she admitted, "but then I have always been a person of superstitions. I have owned my necklace for some years, and I have had it with me in quite lawless places. I have never, however, felt just the same amount of apprehension as I do at the present moment."

She came over to my side, and without unclasping the necklace, let it rest in my hands. The pearls were all marvelously matched, all of considerable size, and with that milky softness which she pointed out to me as being a proof of their great perfection. As we stood there, necessarily close together, a wisp of her hair touched my forehead. Something in the timbre of her low laugh as she brushed it back induced me to look up. There were qualities about her smile and the peculiar expression of her eyes which gave me a momentary thrill.

"Do you admire my pearls?" she asked softly.

"They are very wonderful," I admitted.

She moved slowly away. I breathed more easily as the distance increased between us. She looked over her shoulder unexpectedly, and I believe that she realized my sensation. The slight frown passed from her forehead. She was obviously more content.

"Tell me how you propose to guard my treasures, Sir Norman?" she inquired as she sank into an easy-chair. "Shall you stand behind my chair at dinner, disguised as a waiter, and lie on my mat at night? It gives one quite a shivery sensation to think of such espionage!"

"Believe me," I assured her, "I shall not be in the least obtrusive. I understand that you send your pearls down every night to the hotel safe."

"I have always done so," she answered. "Do you think it would be better to keep them up here? Will you promise to sit in this easy-chair, with a revolver on your knee, all night, if I do so?"

"Not for the world," I declared. "The hotel safe is much the better place."

"I am glad to hear your decision," she said with a slight smile. "I should sleep very little if I thought that my pearls were near me—and that you were sitting here, on guard. The idea would be disturbing."

"One cannot guard against mischievous," I observed, "but I think you can make your mind quite easy about the necklace. If you should need me at any time, the number of my room is Four-thirty-two."

"On this floor?"

"On this floor."

"Tell me," she asked a little abuptly as I rose to take my leave, "who was the man with whom you were talking last night in the lounge—a slim, middle-aged man with a very hard face? I am always seeing him in the lift."

"A man I know scarcely anything of," I replied. "His name, I believe, is Stanfield. I once played golf with him down at Woking."

"Stanfield?" she repeated. "Was it in his grounds near Woking that a murder was committed—a policeman was found shot there?"

I nodded. "I was playing with Mr. Stanfield at the time," I told her.

"And the murderer was never discovered?"

"Never!"

"I wonder you didn't take an interest in the case yourself," she remarked.

"I did," I told her. She made a little grimace.

"My fears for the necklace are reawakened," she declared. "Surely it ought to have been an easy task for a clever man like you, one who used to be called a really great detective, to discover the murderer?"

"It is beyond my powers to bring him to justice, at any rate," I replied. "There are many criminals walking about today, of whose guilt the police are perfectly well aware. They cannot be arrested, however, for lack of evidence."

"How thrilling!" she murmured. "Will you ask me to dine with you some night and tell me of your adventures?"

"I shall be happy to do so," I replied. "Meantime—"

She accepted my departure a little unwillingly. I am not a vain man, and I felt inclined to wonder at a certain graciousness of attitude on her part which more than once during our interview had itself upon my notice.

Late, about seven o'clock, a note was brought to my room.

Dear Sir Norman,

A lady and her husband who were dining, have disappointed me. Can you, by any chance, be my guest? If so, let us meet at eight o'clock in the lounge.

Hopefully yours,

Blanche de Mendoza.

I scribbled a line of acceptance. I felt, as I descended into the lounge that evening, a premonition that life for the next few hours was going to be very interesting indeed.

At eight o'clock, precisely, Mrs. De Mendoza came into the lounge, with a white lace evening dress, with an ermine wrap which hung loosely around her disclosing the pearls underneath. Her entrance made a mild sensation. Mr. Stanfield, who was seated in his accustomed corner, drinking his cocktail, watched our meeting and departure into the restaurant with obvious surprise.

The little man was there again who stares at me so much—Mr. Stanfield, I think you called him?" she remarked as we took our places.

I nodded.

"I dare say he was surprised to see us together," I said. "Asked him who you were, on the night of my arrival here."

"Why?"

"For the same reason that a great many other people ask the same question," I replied.

She made a little grimace.

"You are determined to pay no compliments this evening, and I am wearing my favorite gown."

"Admire your taste," I assured her.

"Anything else?"

"You are the best-dressed and the best-looking woman in the room."

"Too impersonal," she complained.

I turned the conversation to the subject of the necklace. The pearls were collected for her, some in India, some in the Malay states, some in Paris, some in Rio. She spoke of him quite frankly—a prosperous fruit-broker who had achieved sudden opulence.

"It was as much a change for me as for him," she remarked. "I was a typist in Buenos Aires before we were married. I have known what it is to be poor."

She answered all my questions without reserve, displaying later on much interest in the recounting of such of my adventures as were public property. I began to feel that I had been mistaken with regard to her, that she was really exactly what she seemed—a very wealthy woman of adventurous type, suddenly released from matrimonial obligations and a little uncertain what to make of her life.

We took our coffee in the lounge afterward. In the background my going friend, Mr. Stanfield, was seated, smoking a cigaret in a retired corner, and having the air of studying everyone who passed.

on most farms, and will enable a farmer when plowing to finish the ends and corners without the use of horses."

Six outstanding points on purchasing a tractor are emphasized:

(1) The size of farm and fields, (2) kind of soil, (3) topography, (4) the work tractors do, (5) the benefits, and (6) drawbacks of ownership and use.

The use of a tractor on a farm of a certain size may be justified, while on another farm of even twice the size the reverse may be true.

Most tractor owners also use their machines for a large number of drawbar and belt operations, the number usually increasing the longer the machine is owned.

"I am glad to hear your decision," she said with a slight smile. "I should sleep very little if I thought that my pearls were near me—and that you were sitting here, on guard. The idea would be disturbing."

"One cannot guard against mischievous," I observed, "but I think

These provisions conflict with a portion of S. B. 85 which stipulates that "no association, however, shall handle the agricultural products of any non-member, except for storage."

S. B. 219—Harris provides two new sections to the present law relating to non-profit corporations stipulating that associations "

"may fix as liquidated damages specific sums to be paid by the member to the association on the breach by him of any provision of the marketing contract regarding sale or delivery of products,"

"and if any member

"breaches or threatens to breach or provision of the marketing contract the association may be entitled to an injunction to prevent the further breach of the contract and to a decree of specific performance thereof. Also that a contract providing for the delivery of agricultural products by a member may be specifically enforced by the association or corporation to secure the delivery of such products. Somewhat similar provisions are made in S. B. 85.

A. B. 432—Dorris, would add a new section to present laws relating to co-operative business, corporations or associations as follows: "654c—Any person who uses the word 'co-operative' in connection with the title or name of any business, except co-operative business associations organized under title twenty, title twenty-one, title twenty-two or title twenty-three, as said title twenty-three may be adopted at the forty-fifth session of the legislature, of the Civil Code shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

A. B. 675—Inman, would add a new section to the law, as follows: "655—Every corporation formed under the provisions of this title has power to levy and collect, from the members thereof, for the purpose of paying the proper and legal expenses of the corporation, conduct business or paying debts, assessments in such manner as may be prescribed by its by-laws."

A. B. 525—Dawson, would prevent the holding in cold storage of any article of food of a perishable nature for consumption by human beings for a period longer than ninety days. Also that each article placed in cold storage must be marked with the date so placed in storage. This is another example of a bill drawn with good intentions but with scant knowledge of current practices. Many of our agricultural products, including eggs, butter, meats, fruit, etc., are properly held in storage more than ninety days. Also, it would be foolhardy to attempt to mark each egg or other article with the date it is placed in storage.

A. B. 769—Morris and S. B. 430—Gray, are duplicate bills apparently aiming to exempt soft drink manufacturers and dealers from labeling their imitation colorings and flavorings as such. The way the bill is drawn, however, it is much broader than this and Dr. E. L. Lea, director of the bureau of foods and drugs of the state board of health, writes as follows: "The amendment in one section of this bill practically nullifies the effectiveness of the pure food law and permits the substitution of anything on earth which is not poisonous or rotten in place of high grade foods, including many farm products."

A. B. 782—Broughton, would provide for every bovine affected with tuberculosis which reacts to a tuberculin test be branded on the left jaw with the letter "T" not less than three inches in height.

Regulations deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act would be issued by the director of agriculture.

S. B. 504—Lyon, would require every unregistered bovine known to any veterinarian to be affected with tuberculosis as a result of physical examination, tuberculin or other test recognized by the department of agriculture, be branded with the letter "T" not less than two or more than three inches in height on the left jaw. Every registered bovine so affected would be reported to the director of agriculture. The director of agriculture would make rules or regulations necessary or convenient to carry out the act.

S. B. 589—Dennett, provides:

"77—One who sells cattle for dairy purposes, or who has reason to believe that such cattle are purchased for dairy purposes, warrants by a sale thereof, that they are free from tuberculosis or other contagious disease." Senator Dennett explains that this act would give the purchaser an opportunity to bring action in case he feels that misrepresentations have been made; that even diseased animals could be sold if misrepresentations, and that this bill would throw the burden of proof upon such purchasers to prove that the animal were diseased at time of sale.

A. B. 577—Duglas, is a skeleton bill, the title indicating an amendment to the tubercular free area law.

S. B. 580—Matthews, is a skeleton bill which, according to its title, would amend the tubercular free area bill to provide for county board of supervisors to establish and maintain breeding dairy cattle brands as tuberculosis eradication and control of tuberculosis would warrant.

A. B. 431—Corrie, would require the owner's name or identification mark to appear permanently on every milk or cream, or on containers of all milk, cream and ice cream cans, bottles and containers to be thoroughly washed and sterilized after each use, and that no person or firm except a common carrier could deliver any cream or butterfat to a person or firm for purposes of churning same into butter unless and until the butterfat is delivered in the original container in which said cream or butterfat is delivered in the original container in which said cream or butterfat is delivered from the producer of said cream or butterfat.

This bill is probably aimed at the practice of mixing cream from different producers in the time of year when it is difficult to determine the percentage of butterfat, but the question will be raised as to whether or not such a law would interfere with the economic value of cream or butterfat through

PRISCILLA CLUB OF VILLA PARK ENTERTAINED

VILLA PARK, March 7.—The Modern Priscilla Club met at the home of Miss Elizabeth Lee where one of the most pleasant afternoons that the club has spent for some time took place. Regardless of wind and weather thirteen members were present and nine visitors, some of them having been former Villa Park residents.

The afternoon was spent in talking over old times and those who felt so inclined brought out their work but there wasn't very much done for about 2:30 o'clock two little boys, Coyne Streach and Clarence Adams, carried in a beautifully decorated basket of gifts and placed it at the feet of one of the members. After she had somewhat recovered she opened the packages and passed them around for inspection.

Huge bouquets, grass nuts, mustard and lupines were set around the rooms but the most admired one was a bowl of mountain moss with wild blue violets, ferns, trillium and a small branch of a fir tree in it that was sent Miss Lee by a friend who lives at St. Helena, Napa county.

The hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. J. R. Smith and niece Grace Ellen Lee served the guests with delicious chicken patties, olives, coffee and candied nuts.

Visitors present were Mrs. John King of Orange, Mrs. Fred Harrison, Mrs. John Moore and baby of Peralta, Mrs. Madge Christianson, Mrs. Willard Smith, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. John Ragan, Mrs. Elsie Holditch and Mrs. Elma Lee. ### OBITUARY

ERNEST L. DOZIER.

ORANGE, March 7.—The sudden going away of Ernest L. Dozier, of Orange, March 2, came as a great shock to his relatives, friends and community in general.

He had lived almost his entire life in the vicinity of Orange, being one of the ambitious young ranchers of this community. It was not until Thursday evening that he took his bed. All was done that medical skill and loving hands could do, but the heart gradually grew worse and at 11 p. m. Friday, the spirit took its flight to God who gave it.

God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform; He plants His footsteps in the seas, And rides upon the storm.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take, The clouds ye so much dread Are big with mercy and shall break In blessings on your head.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense But trust Him for his grace; Behind a frowning providence He hides a smiling face.

His purpose will open fast, Unfolding every hour; The bud may have a bitter taste, But sweet will be the flower.

Blind, unbelief is sure to err, And scan His world in vain; God is His own interpreter and He will make it plain.

Ernest L. Dozier was born Aug. 25, 1887, near Argonia, Kansas. At the age of 3 months his parents moved to this vicinity. He received his education in the county schools and Santa Ana Business College.

In 1912 he was united in marriage to Elma Summers, of El Modena, and theirs was an ideal married life. His thoughtfulness and devotion to his wife and parents were constantly in evidence.

Some years ago he, with his wife, united with the Friends church at El Modena and while a man of few words and of little desire to be in the public eye he never wavered in his abiding faith in God.

That he was a good citizen, a kind neighbor, a devoted husband and consistent Christian will be witnessed by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Mrs. Elma Dozier, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dozier, a brother, Edward Dozier, of Garden Grove, besides other relatives and many friends.

AGED TRUCK CAUSES WOE AT FULLERTON; DRIVER IS ARRESTED

FULLERTON, March 7.—If the city of Fullerton allows one of its trucks to become so decrepit that it can't be stopped once it is started, is the driver open to prosecution by the city attorney for breaking the city ordinances covering disturbance of the city peace?

That was the problem facing the police judge here today. The truck was progressing down the street early one morning this week with its usual clatter and tank effect. A policeman, awakened by the noise, ran out, grabbed the one wheel and brought the vehicle to a stop. That was more than the driver could do, he admitted.

The policeman arrested the driver. The car is of the Chester A. Arthur vintage, local people say.

The pupils of the Laguna school will make posters to advertise the "Wild Flower" show.

Prizes will be awarded the best three—first, $1; second, 75 cents; third, 50 cents.

TO MAKE GERMANY PAY

Now comes Charles M. Schwab, the big steel manufacturer, asking for an international commission to determine how much reparation Germany can pay. And he goes farther than most of the supporters of American intervention.

He would have such a commission not only decide what Germany is capable of paying, but "stay in Berlin to exercise a budgetary control, to see what taxes were paid, and, with the support of the several governments, including the American, impose a settlement on Germany."

Americans, naturally, will want to think about that proposition awhile. It is likely to appeal more to business men interested in reviving the foreign market for American goods than to the average citizen whose chief care in foreign matters is to avoid being drawn into new troubles.

His proposal, however, serves as a reminder of something that seems to be generally overlooked in this country. That is the fact that Germany owes the United States a very respectable sum of money, for damages done and for maintenance of troops. Any creditor has a legitimate right to wonder how the debtor is getting along, whether he is conducting his business lines, whether he is trying to pay.

The oldest durable highway in the world is in Rome. Anyway, if we haven't the oldest one here in the United States, we have some of the worst.

NATURE'S BALANCE UPSET

Uncle Sam is worried about a disturbance in the island of Laysan, one of the Hawaiian group, and is sending a warship to settle the trouble.

No cause for general alarm, however. All the fighting will be against rabbits. Some thoughtless settler introduced the bunnies in the island, and the pesky things multiplied with such rapidity that they are eating up all the vegetation and so threatening the destruction of the other wild life there. It is something like the plague of rabbits that followed their introduction in Australia, or the plague of English sparrows in America, only worse.

Nature's balance is a curious thing. In any region where man has never interfered, the various life forces are in equilibrium. When man adds some new creature, or exterminates some old one, he never can tell what the result will be. Eventually a new adjustment will come, but it may be the balance of death.

May the navy win a glorious victory!

The only trouble about "outlawing war" is that war has a way of making its own laws.

SUPPRESSING BAD NEWS

A woman who was going on a tour around the world made an agreement with her husband, who was detained at home, that neither would write anything but cheerful letters while she was away. During her absence her husband became seriously ill and finally died, but refused to his last breath to allow his wife to be informed of his condition because of the foolish promise.

People who try to protect themselves or others from the inevitable misfortunes of life by ill-considered pledges more often are courting trouble than escaping it. What will this wife's feeling be when she returns from her leisurely jaunt and learns of the results in her case?

There are people with an infinite capacity for rehearsing in their letters all the petty home worries which the absent one should be allowed to forget if he is to reap full benefit from the change of scene. People who write this type of letter are among life's most active joy-killers and deserve to be suppressed. But between this selfish purveyance of nagging details and the transmission of vital facts there is a vast difference. There are times when it is the right for every human being to hear bad news. When a promise interferes with this right, it becomes "more honored in the breach than in the observance."

Radio seems to make eavesdropping unanimous.

THE CONTROL OF RUBBER

Leading American automobile and tire manufacturers, headed by Henry Ford and Harvey S. Firestone, are said to be forming a big financial pool to promote the production of rubber in this hemisphere and bring it under American control. Thus they supplement the effects made by the government, and perhaps make its plans effective.

This is legitimate. It is intolerable that the country which is now using most of the world's production of rubber, and is destined to use more right along, should have its supply limited and made exorbitantly expensive by means of foreign control of the productive areas. Production and distribution ought to be under American control.

At the same time, Great Britain, now boss of the rubber situation, may turn around and demand to know why, if it is wrong for her to limit rubber production in order to raise the price, it is right for America to limit cotton production for the same reason, because she needs our cotton as much as we need her rubber. It is a nice question of international economics and morals.

When those Trunks demand "justice" they may be taken at their word.

THE GREAT MEAT GORGE

More meat was consumed in the United States last year than in any previous year. A government bulletin notes that "coupled with the decrease in exports and somewhat higher prices to purchasers in 1922, these figures evidence a satisfactory state of the home market, due doubtless to the prosperous condition and better purchasing power of the people generally."

Save from the dealer's point of view, an increased consumption of meat would not be a good thing if it were not accompanied by a proportionately increased consumption of other foods. It would mean that the nation was reverting to the over-protected diet of

Seeks to Legalize Power Grabs

Visalia Delta.

The Delta has frequently referred to the opposition of Los Angeles to the enlargement of Sequoia Park, because of water power filings in Kings River Canyon. But we are not the only victim. Having run afoul of a law preventing the carrying out of certain well-laid schemes for her own advancement in the Owen's River Valley, the city of Los Angeles is now seeking to remedy the situation by doing away with the law.

The ambitious metropolis sought by court action to condemn a power site and other property of the Southern Sierras Company in the Owens river valley. The case was carried to the United States circuit court of appeals, which recently held that the power company's rights in the property were already appropriated to the use of certain counties and cities and that under the California Code of Civil Procedure the Los Angeles scheme was illegal.

Senate Bill 503 has therefore been introduced by Senator Lyon of Los Angeles for the purpose of correcting this very objectionable law. It seeks to amend the code provision particularly by striking out the following provision:

But private property appropriated to the use of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district, may not be taken by any other county, city, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, while such property is so appropriated and used for the public purposes for which it has been so appropriated.

This provision has been long in the statute books.

It was put there expressly to protect the smaller communities from the ambitions of larger ones in situations such as the present one. The Lyon bill brings forth a storm of protest from all over Southern California, every community outside Los Angeles recognizing that its own future is jeopardized by the selfish aspirations of the big city.

The Lyon bill carries a softening clause by which the court in condemnation proceedings may require the condemning party to furnish "the substantial equivalent" of previous service. But this provision says nothing about rates, which would be fixed by the Los Angeles Public Service Commission, over which the Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction.

From any onerous or unjust ruling of the Los Angeles board there would be no court of appeal. Newspapers, boards of supervisors, chambers of commerce, other civic bodies, and scores of individual citizens are unanimous in denouncing a measure that would remove the railroad commission's protection and leave them at the mercy of a body pledged to give first consideration to Los Angeles' demands.

At first glance the Lyon bill would seem to have it in its interest to the San Joaquin Valley. As a matter of fact, it concerns the valley vitally. The law is general and could be made applicable to any city or any utility in the state. But as Los Angeles is behind the amendment, the Los Angeles attitude only is now a source of apprehension. The southern city has met with strenuous opposition in the valley in its efforts to grab power sites upon which the valley must depend for its future needs. If the Lyon bill becomes a law, there is nothing to prevent Los Angeles from condemning and taking over the power systems now serving us. The threat may not be as immediate as that confronting Southern California cities and counties, but it nevertheless exists and its dangers should not be lightly viewed. Not merely what is now contemplated, but what under the law may be ultimately done, is the important point.

Los Angeles is powerful in the legislature. Consciousness of that power has perhaps inspired the effort of this latest move, which proposes to nullify the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals. Legislators of the San Joaquin valley should stand with their colleagues of interior Southern California and vote Senate bill 503 into deserved oblivion.

Teachers and the Budget

San Bernardino Sun.

Seconding the attitude taken by State Superintendent Will C. Wood, who is in open rebellion against the budget recommended by Governor Richardson, the local educators are out in resolution condemning the "inadequate appropriations," although in their resolutions they do not go further than to ask for hearings so that the exact situation may be ascertained. Nobody can object to additional investigation. If it can be shown that some essential detail of the States' educational system will suffer, such changes ought to be made as the revenues of the State will make possible.

The matter of school finances is a rather intricate and involved one, and perhaps only those in possession of all the information are in a position to discuss it intelligently. But from our limited knowledge of the situation, we are led to doubt whether the schools of this country suffer under the budget, while we are persuaded that things are creeping into the State educational system that hardly belong there.

We note among other things that the teachers inveigh against the budget recommendations because "the budget involves the elimination of the junior college department from these (Teachers' Colleges) institutions."

That may be the first information that some people have of the fact that at Teachers' Colleges over the State the junior college department has been added, although communities which have no Teachers' College supported by the State, must provide their own junior college.

That has recently been a live topic in this city, where we had hoped to organize a district that would include San Bernardino and Colton High School districts, and establish a junior college that would serve both. But the people of these districts would have been taxed for the money to build the plant and to maintain it. However, in Fresno, for instance, where there is a Teachers' College, the junior college department is added and maintained at State expense. The entire State contributes to this which is for the particular benefit of the people of Fresno, properly a part of their own school system and ought to be financed by them.

If there is nothing worse in the school budget submitted by the Governor than this suggestion of eliminating junior colleges, they ought to be eliminated as a State function. Either that, or the State ought to support them everywhere.

POINTS FAVORING CITY MANAGER SYSTEM ARE BROUGHT OUT IN ANSWER

Santa Ana, March 5, 1923. Editor Register:

If you will give me a few lines in your good paper, in which to right our old-fashioned friend, Mr. Ballard, I think we can clear up point or two in his mind.

Just as we, as boys, outgrew our shoes, so is Santa Ana outgrowing the old form of government. It is safe to say that only a few old-fashioned heads will fight the change, and, if asked, they couldn't tell you why.

Here is the plan in a nutshell: The City Manager plan of government is just a plain business proposition. If five or six men were the owners of your city and they were required to conduct its affairs, they would undoubtedly adopt a plan following in the direction of large corporations and employ a manager to look after the details of the business, and especially is this true if he had other private interests to take up their time, as the ordinary councilmen have.

The plan is not a one-man power proposition, as many of the uninformed believe it to be. The Mayor and Council make the laws and plan the improvements and direct the City Manager to carry out the details of those plans and see to the enforcement of the ordinances and laws. If he fails to properly discharge his duties and manage the affairs turned over to him, in an economical manner, he is liable to discharge, the same as any executive of a private corporation.

It is found much more convenient and satisfactory to transact business, filing requests and objections, with one man in authority who is ALWAYS on the job and may be reached within five minutes at any time, rather than search out some councilman, who may, or may not be, on the propertor committee to consider the matter thereby to a further delay incident to securing action through instructions to the proper committee.

In addition to the speeding up of action, in every instance, the installation of system in every department, more especially that of accounting, affords an absolute knowledge in every detail of the city and its affairs by the City Manager, enabling him to conserve its resources in ways and at times where it would not be done by the council. This would not only save money to the taxpayers but satisfy them by prompt and efficient service.

Money is not paid out for bosses or commissioners in every department. The City Manager superintends all of the work of the various city departments, employs such help as it needs, and discharges this help when it is seen that it is not giving the city full value in time and labor for the pay received.

Politics have no place in the scheme, and as the manager's job and future depends essentially upon the results he produces; no favors are dispensed as has been the regular custom under the old council system, and campaign favors and promises must be paid in some other manner than through municipal patronage.

The argument has often been launched that if a poor man is procured for Manager, the plan will not be a success, and that you cannot pick up a man every day who will prove a success as City Manager. This is true in the direction of all affairs where the services of a Manager are considered. Our large private corporations cannot at all times secure competent Managers but that does not necessarily prove that their business is not a good one, or that their system is wrong. No one would advance the claim that any large private corporation could turn its business over to a new board of directors every two or four years. As is the custom in cities under the old plan of government. Let us say, for instance, that we elect new Councilmen every two years, the water department may be given over to a committee from that Council who takes full charge of the plant, the value of which is $100,000. The fact that the water committeemen have never had any experience along that line, have never been inside of the plant in their lives, makes no difference. What is true in the water department is true in all other departments of the city. Any city employing a City Manager and giving him authority to manage the affairs of that city, as the board of directors give the managers of large corporations authority, will find at the close of the first year's business he has saved the city several times his salary, and the people will have had better service.

Remember the old adage, "everybody's business is nobody's business." This plan makes it everybody's business.

Officers of the City Managers' Association of the U. S. A. are: H. M. Waite, Dayton, Ohio, President; J. G. Barwell, Rock Hill, S. C., Vice-President; O. E. Carr, Niagara Falls, N. Y., Secretary and Treasurer.

We have nine cities in this state employing Managers, some larger and some smaller than Santa Ana. Santa Ana will be the tenth one for we are not all of an old-fashioned turn of mind as is our friend, Mr. Ballard.

Yours for a Greater Santa Ana, C. F. NEWBY.

Thank you.

Adventures of the Twins

A Mixed-Up Clock

By Olive Roberts Barton

Away went the Twins in the queer automobile.

It was queer because it had wings instead of wheels. But then, there were queerer things than that in Mix-Up Land.

Suddenly they heard a sound. "Ding, dong, ding, dong!" it went, 12 times.

"It's a clock!" cried Nancy. "Let's stop. I'd like to see it." So the automobile lit on a tree, balancing itself like a bird.

"I thought you'd stop," said the clock. "Have you any extra hands?"
